

TERMS AND CONDITIONS

Cancellations

You must obtain a cancellation confirmation for order cancellations. Orders may not be cancelled after work is in progress or after special orders with outside vendors have been placed.

Collections

If your account is turned to a collection agency you will be responsible for all collection and attorney fees.

Customer's Own Material or Fabric (COM/COF)

Paramount Fabrics, Inc. is not responsible for imperfections in COM/F. Inspect your goods before shipping. All orders must be sent with a swatch of fabric attached for identifying purposes. Specify top side of fabric and pattern direction. If the "up, down, front, back" of the fabric pattern is not specified, it will be up to the workroom's discretion. Also, specify the name, color, pattern repeat, width and source of the fabric on your order.

Quoted yardage estimates are only estimates. As there are many variables that are only seen when the workroom has possession of the actual fabric and finalized order, Paramount Fabrics, Inc. will not be held responsible for fabric shortages or overages under any circumstances.*

Deposits

All new accounts are subject to 50% deposit prior to work beginning on their first custom order. Also, orders exceeding credit limit require deposit.

Fabric Flaws

Paramount Fabrics, Inc. will not assume responsibility for customer's flawed fabric. It is the sole responsibility of the customer to verify fabric and inspect for flaws prior to our receiving it. Flawed fabrics received in drop shipments are the responsibility of the customer and/or supplier.

Guarantees

Paramount Fabrics, Inc. guarantees our custom-made window treatments against defects in workmanship and our own materials for a period of three months after date of completion. Except as stated above, we make no guarantee or warranty, express or implied, concerning the fitness of its products or fabrics you have chosen for any given treatment or purpose.

We will not reimburse for labor not performed by our company and under no circumstances shall our liability extend to interest or insurance.*

Reimbursement of shipping, reinstallation and/or trip charges regarding errors made on our part may never be automatically deducted from any payment due Paramount Fabrics, Inc. without management approval.

FABRIC CHARACTERISTICS AND WORKROOM TERMS IN ASSOCIATION

Pattern Repeat

Pattern repeat, as listed in your vendor's fabric catalog and/or on their samples, is approximate only and can vary slightly from one printing to the next. It may also print unevenly through-out the bolt of material.

- We cannot guarantee precise repeat matching.
- In all treatments, workroom will pattern match, as close as possible, from the TOP of the treatment. This includes draperies and shades of different lengths.

Puckering

It is natural for some fabrics (i.e. hammered satins, satin stripes) to have a puckered or slightly wrinkled appearance. This is a characteristic of today's more relaxed, casual fabric constructions and your customer should be informed of these characteristics when choosing fabric for their custom-made treatments.

Sheers

Sheers will intensify in color when made into drapery. Fold a sheer three times for a truer representation of color. Darker sheers have more of a tendency to fade or disintegrate than lighter sheers.

Synthetic Fibers

Despite the impressive strides in the advancement of the technology of weaving synthetic fibers, performance will vary with the construction of the fabric and its application. Whole or partial synthetic constructions have a tendency to react adversely more readily to atmospheric conditions than natural fibers. Synthetic fibers are sensitive to heat, sunlight and steam. Shrinking, hiking seams, puckering and flaring are common characteristics and must be accepted as such.

Wrinkles

All fabrics are ironed and/or steamed during the workroom process so that the finished product is as "wrinkle-free" as possible. Some fabrics, such as linen, silk and cotton blend fabrics, are prone to wrinkle and to retain wrinkles. Draperies are fan-folded and carefully packaged; however, due to extended staging in our workroom, transit, and handling some creases and wrinkles will exist. All fabric treatments should be hung as soon as possible. Most wrinkles should "hang out" with a little time and your professional installer should be prepared to address wrinkling on the install.

Paramount Fabrics, Inc. will not be held responsible for wrinkled treatments under any circumstances.*
